Planview Announces Availability of New ALM Integration for Rally Software

Press Release

Posted by:

Posted on : 2013/1/15 10:03:30

Planview® today announced that Planview Enterprise®, its market-leading project portfolio management (PPM) solution, now integrates with Rally Software’s Agile Application Lifecycle Management (ALM) platform. This integration provides visibility into financial costs of Agile projects and enables better collaboration within software development organizations. The combination of leading PPM and ALM solutions ultimately helps clients improve the pace of innovation and capacity to deliver products to market.

Planview OpenSuite for Rally Software delivers a consolidated portfolio view in Planview Enterprise that allows organizations to better understand and manage all types of projects. Rally’s Agile ALM platform transforms the way organizations manage the entire Agile software development lifecycle. Rally provides application lifecycle data to Planview Enterprise giving product and project managers the ability to plan and monitor project execution. Through the status and financial information exchanged, the total cost of all software development projects is now accessible in Planview Enterprise.

“We are excited to be working with Rally to bring this joint value proposition to customers,” said Patrick Tickle, executive vice president of products, Planview. “Our respective best-of-breed solutions, and the continued momentum of portfolio management and Agile software development, makes this integration a natural fit for organizations looking to elevate maturity and performance.”

“This partnership continues to reinforce our commitment to extend Agile to program and portfolio managers to help companies steer their investment priorities in real-time and respond faster to changes in their markets,” said Todd Olson, vice president of products, Rally. “The integration with Planview Enterprise is the most extensive bidirectional third-party integration to date between Rally and a PPM solution.”

To learn more, watch a short video demonstration at www.planview.com/rallysoftware or visit www.rallydev.com.

About Planview

Planview helps enterprises drive innovation, become more agile and efficient, and improve their business performance. For more than 20 years, leading organizations have been making better decisions using our solutions to optimize the planning and execution of their business strategy. As the market leader in portfolio management, we combine a passion for customer success with a commitment to innovation and thought leadership. Throughout the enterprise, our customers use portfolio management to capitalize on business opportunities and thrive in a dynamic, global economy. For more information, visit www.planview.com.