The tinyPM Agile collaboration tool just got new powers! We are happy to announce that a new 3.0 version is now available as free BETA.

In the new version you will find all the well-known and well received features from tinyPM v2.x, but done in a better way. To name a few improvements:

- * Our UI just got a lot faster
- * We've improved the usability of all features
- * Most content is editable inline now
- * Backlog management has never been easier
- * You can do anything you need without leaving your task board
- * We now support read-only users, so that your business and clients stay up to date at no additional cost
- * And many more tinyPM's mantra remains the same: tiny effort, perfect management, but we also add one more element to it – you can always do better. Check out <http://beta.tinypm.com>
