

More than 1000 tools registered at SoftDevTools.com

News

Posted by:

Posted on : 2008/11/4 5:30:00

SoftDevTools.com is a unique directory of software development tool where you can be informed on both commercial and open source solutions for your software development needs. It covers all software development activities: programming (java, .net, php, ruby, etc), testing, configuration management, databases, project management, etc. Tools can be classified using multiple criteria: licensing, running platforms and functionalities, etc. With 10′000 monthly visitors, SoftDevTools.com is proud to have registered its 1000 tool and looking forward to reaching the 2000 milestone. If you are the editor of a commercial software development tool or contributing to an open source project, go to <http://www.softdevtools.com/> to register your tool.